3. Mr. Michaels was interested in whether the take [REDACTED] would require substantially increased processing and analytical facilities beyond those already committed in the handling of material obtained through existing collection systems. Michaels also expressed his continuing concern over the apparent duplication resulting from the number of different space vehicle types used in the various U.S. programs.

4. During their visit Woodruff and Michaels viewed the Soviet film "True Sons of the People" which depicted various Soviet weapons, etc. They both concluded that while the film was interesting they did not feel it of sufficient importance to warrant showing to members of their respective Committees.
